Introduction

In the rolling hills of Tehama County, outside of Corning, CA where the horizon stretches endlessly and the air is filled with quiet promise, lies the 1,924-acre Bar 69 Ranch that embodies the spirit of the American West. This legacy property has been held by only its second owner since the original 1,519-acre ranch was established. This is more than just land, it's a reminder of the freedom found in wide-open spaces and the limitless opportunities they hold.

At the heart of the ranch is a warm and inviting 2,400 sq. ft. main home featuring a spacious loft and traditional cellar that embodies the perfect blend of comfort and country charm. Nearby, two thoughtfully designed guest houses (a two-bedroom and a one-bedroom) offer private accommodations for family, friends, or visitors, while a 1BD/1BA labor home provides flexible housing for ranch hands. Whether you're hosting weekend gatherings or fun family reunions, the expansive recreational room is a standout feature, complete with an 18-foot bar and attached kitchen. It's the ideal setting for entertaining guests who can retreat to the nearby guest homes after a night of stories, music, and laughter under the open sky.

Beyond the living spaces, the ranch is a fully functional livestock operation with multiple barns, a well-equipped shop featuring large roll-up doors with 3-phase power, corrals, pens, squeeze and loading chutes. The property is cross and perimeter fenced, supporting 235 cow/calf pairs year-round. Additional features like RV hookups with water, sewer, and electric, a two-car garage, and various outbuildings add even more flexibility.

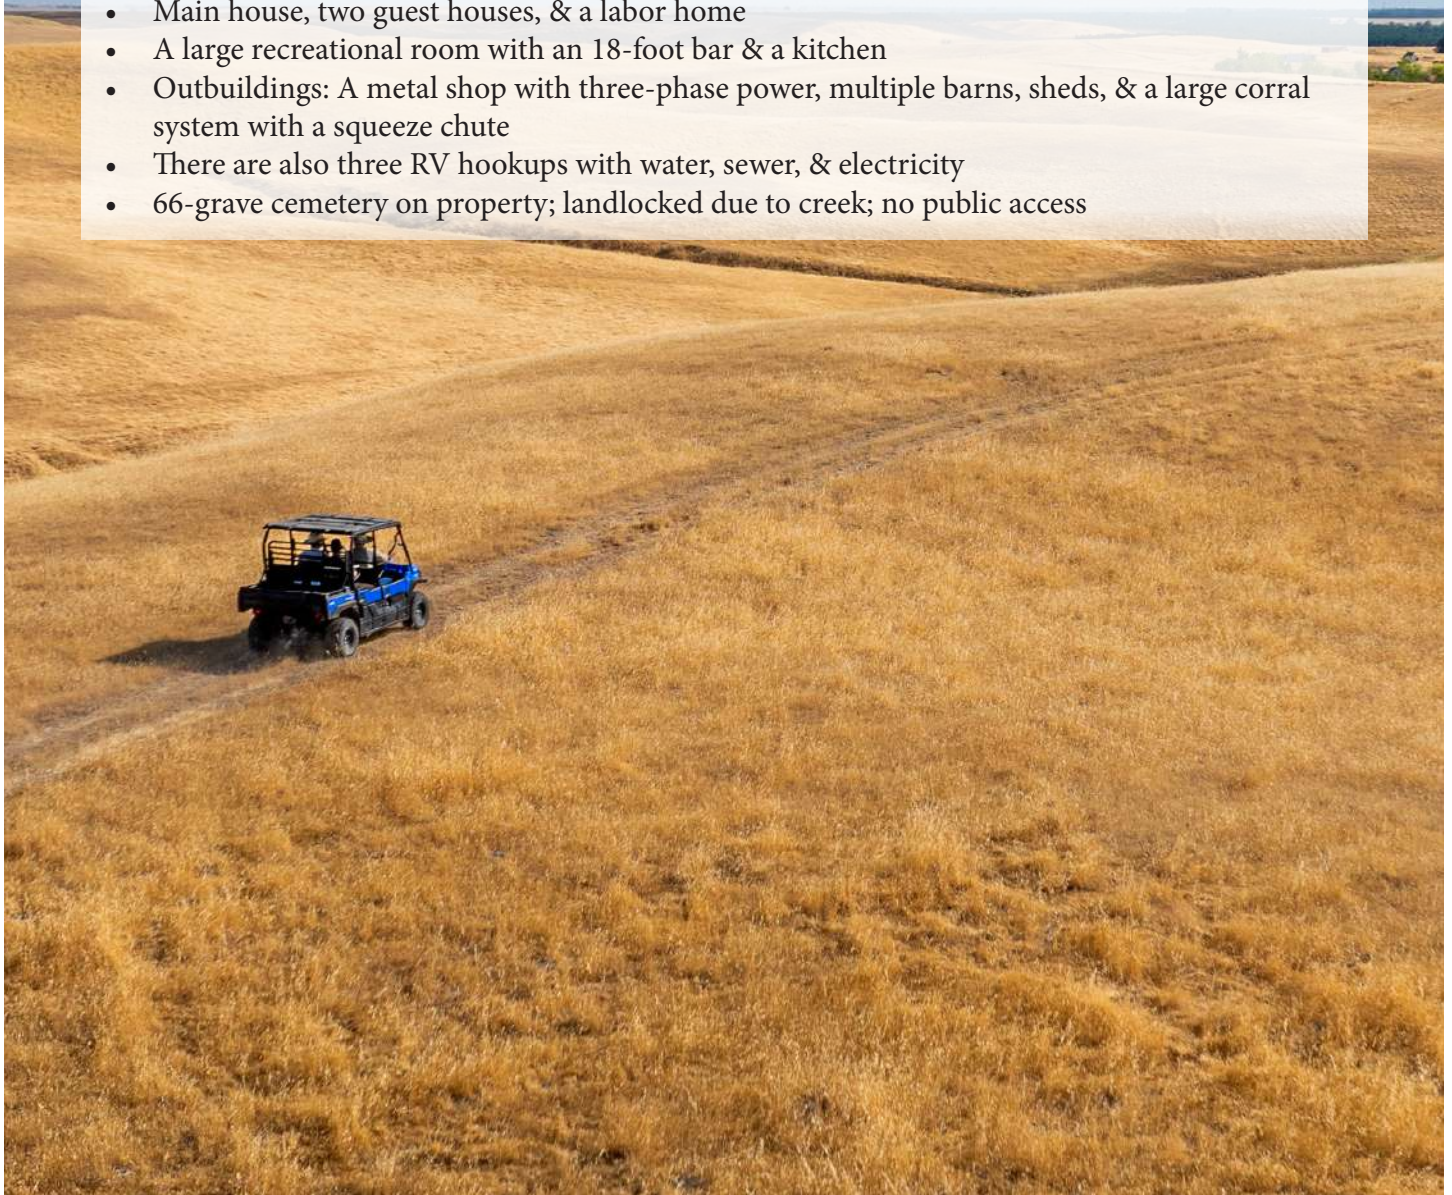

The property's water resources are extensive, consisting of eight year-round ponds, four seasonal ponds, two seasonal creeks, five irrigated pastures, an ag well, solar wells, domestic wells, and designated water rights. Outdoor recreational opportunities are endless on this wide expansive ranch. Five of the year-round ponds are stocked with bass, providing great fishing opportunities. Hunters and those who appreciate the wildlife will find pigs, deer, boar, doves, and quail all on the property.

This is a ranch where tradition meets possibility, where the land provides, the views inspire, and the lifestyle is rich with meaning. Whether you're continuing a ranching legacy or starting a new chapter, the Bar 69 Ranch offers the space, the infrastructure, and the freedom to make it your own.

Water

The property features eight year-round ponds, five of which are stocked with bass, four seasonal ponds, and two creeks: Jackson Spring Creek, which runs through the southern portion of the ranch, and Elmore Creek, which runs along the northern portion. There are five irrigated pastures. The ranch is further supported by one ag well, three solar wells for cattle, and four domestic wells for homes and livestock. These sources supply up to 200 ± acres of irrigated land spread across five pastures.

The sale also includes two valuable water rights (A019105 & A021348), which will transfer to the new owner.

Cattle

The property's gently rolling terrain is well-suited for seasonal cattle grazing, with livestock rotated through seven to eight established pastures. The ranch is currently leased as a winter grazing operation, with the lease running from November 1 to June 1. The ranch supports 235 cow/calf pairs year-round. Every pasture on the ranch has at least one reliable water source. Seven pastures are equipped with cross-fencing. There are eight dry pastures along with some dry hay fields.

Improvements

The headquarters of the Bar 69 Ranch is a thoughtfully laid out and well-maintained hub for ranch operations, family living, and guest accommodations. A tree-lined driveway leads to the main house, a classic farmhouse-style residence with a welcoming front porch and mature shade trees. The 2,400 sq. ft. home, built in 1934, with an 800 sq. ft. loft and a 400 sq. ft. cellar was completely remodeled in 2005, including new roofing and septic system.

“The Williamson Act, also known as the California Land Conservation Act of 1965, enables local governments to enter into contracts with private landowners for the purpose of restricting specific parcels of land to agricultural or related open space use. In return, landowners receive property tax assessments which are much lower than normal because they are based upon farming and open space uses as opposed to full market value.”
